Join us in acknowledging Robert Lees as he steps down as Secretary General of Pacific Basin Economic Council (PBEC) after nine years. Lees acted as the chief operating officer of, and spokesman for the organization. Lees traveled extensively throughout the region, consulting with senior business and government officials, and developing first-hand expertise on economic, political, and business issues. He has built strong personal relationships throughout the Asia-Pacific, and maintains close contact with key international and regional leaders. Lees also maintains close contact with members of key international and regional organizations such as Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) forum, Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), The World Bank, and the World Trade Organization (WTO).

During the course of a dynamic corporate career, Lees has gained over twenty years of experience in the field of international business including senior management positions with Security Pacific Corporation and Corning Inc., and has lived in both Japan and the Caribbean. He lectures on topics involving the Asia Pacific region, and is featured for his expertise on CNN, CNBC, MSNBC and Japan's NHK, and is frequently quoted in the international business press.

Robert Lees' talk will cover his reflections on the region's political and economic situation and how it affects Hawaii's position and its economic future.
